

The eHealth Lab

Hotel Universitas,
Babes-Bolyai University

17-30 of July, 2022

What?

Are you a higher education student searching for the opportunity to share your idea? Do you want to be a future innovator and entrepreneur to develop a world-class solution to societal challenges and create growth and skilled jobs?

WE GOT YOU COVERED!

Join our Intensive Study Program that will help you achieve a complete overview of digital health, guide you through the technological aspects, and equip you with predictability in the future eHealth domains. Consider it the ideal eHealth summer camp, a unique onsite experience, and an ideal opportunity for networking and discussions, team building, and challenge-based learning in Cluj-Napoca, Romania.

This experience will bring you the opportunity to CONNECT with Portuguese students with backgrounds in Health and Computer sciences, raise discussion points about the Local Ecosystem in the context of digital health technologies and create a new generation of health innovators. International teaching staff and mentors will help you develop competencies in professional practice to tackle the real Digital Health problems. At the end of the Intensive Study Program and long-term mentorship program, 7 teams of students will have the opportunity to pitch a project to international stakeholders at our final conference. Plus, at the end of the ISP everyone will receive a Certificate.

Join our Intensive Study Program and gain new soft skills, explore practical training, and benefit from great networking opportunities!

Why?

You are studying at Babes Bolyai University

You are enrolled in Health, Computer Science, or associated educational programs

You are interested in digital health, but you have no experience so far and you need to start from scratch

You can come alone - the teams will be created during the first day

If you can participate at 60% of the total workshops, you are covered. And you will get the certificate, of course.
